NoHo park was set up with 36 beds instead of the 100+ that it was listed for. At 8 pm, it was shut down for the night since it had no unhoused using it. Outreach was very terrible and had no one lined up. It will open at 1 pm tomorrow and will have a nurse so that it can take walk-ins.

We had to decrease the number of beds in Echo Park to 40 beds for the distancing requirement. Around 7PM we had 4 individuals who were registered but weren't allowed inside b/c the set up inside was not complete.
No further update since then :/

Wow. If capacity isn't at the 100+ person level, I wonder if the staffing projections need to adjust downward also. Thanks

Our Westchester site is supposed to open tomorrow at 6 am. Although, similar to other sites, it's actual capacity with proper spacing appears to be 25, rather than the 104 that was listed.

FYI, at our shelter at 6p, open officially for an hour, no unhoused residents thus far.

Anyone else's shelters actually getting people?

Subject: Drive-through testing center location criteria

To: Blair Miller <blair.miller@lacity.org>

CC: Jacqueline Wagner <jacqueline.wagner@lacity.org>, Melody J. McCormick <melody.mccormick@lacity.org>

Council staff,

Our Asset Management Group in the CAO is working with GSD to respond to motions that were issued by Council on Tuesday, directing us to identify City-owned properties for use as walk-up or drive-through testing centers. Criteria for these centers has not been shared with us, except for a preference for locations near hospitals or laboratories.

The Fire EMS Branch Director, George Morgan, indicated that Council offices had been requested to provide lists of sites in their Districts this week.

Was your office given criteria for testing center sites, and could you share that information? Specifically, we are looking for guidance on the size, location, number and special features of prospective testing sites.

I hope everyone is keeping safe and staying healthy.

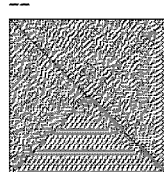

Thank you,

Blair Miller

Hi Colleagues:

My field deputy went out to our Hollywood RC site earlier today and spoke with staff there. He managed to obtain the attached. It certainly doesn't answer many of our outstanding questions, but gives you an idea about staffing, responsibilities, and some of the procedures that will be in place.
